

1. Application

These General Terms of Delivery apply to all services ("Services") provided by Mercurius Attorneys Ltd ("Mercurius"), unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing.

2. Services

The Services shall be provided as agreed, with due care and professional skill, and within the required time schedule of the assignment in question.

When performing the Services, Mercurius shall comply with Finnish law, these terms, the Rules and code of conduct of the Finnish Bar Association, as well as any possible procedures separately agreed with the client.

The responsible attorney acting as the client's primary contact shall be responsible for handling each individual assignment and shall decide on the personnel and other resources needed to provide the Services.

The legal content of Mercurius' Services is based on Finnish law.

3. Prices and Payment Terms

Unless otherwise agreed, the following shall apply:

- (i) Pricing is based on the hourly rate in force at the time.
- (ii) Direct costs related to the assignment (e.g., fees by authorities, travel expenses) shall be charged on the basis of actual costs incurred. Mercurius does not charge any fixed or percentage-based expense fees, general office expenses or other similar costs.
- (iii) The value-added tax in force at the time shall be added to the invoice.
- (iv) Services are invoiced monthly. Each invoice contains a specification of the actions taken.
- (v) The payment term is 14 days from the date of the invoice.

The fee for the Services is independent of whether the client's legal expenses insurance or other insurance covers Mercurius' fee. Unless otherwise agreed, Mercurius invoices its clients directly even when the client has legal expenses insurance.

4. Confidentiality and Data Protection

In connection with the Services, Mercurius obtains knowledge of the client's trade secrets and other confidential information. Mercurius undertakes not to disclose such information to third parties and not to use the information for any purpose other than fulfilling the obligations under the assignment.

Mercurius is responsible for ensuring that its employees comply with the confidentiality provisions set out in this Clause 4.

Mercurius complies with data protection legislation in all of its activities. If Mercurius receives personal data related to the client for processing on behalf of the client, Mercurius undertakes to comply with all rules required by Article 28 of the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and to enter into a separate data protection agreement in this regard.

The obligations related to confidentiality shall remain in force even after the termination of the assignment.

5. Client Identification

Mercurius has an obligation under the legislation on the prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing to identify its clients and the identity of the clients' representatives and owners. In certain situations, Mercurius must also clarify the origin of funds. Mercurius is obliged to submit an official report on suspicious transactions if the assignment is suspected to involve terrorist financing or money laundering.

6. Limitation of Liability

The Services are based solely on the application of Finnish law and Mercurius is only responsible for advice based on Finnish law. Mercurius has not examined the content of the laws of any other country and does not provide recommendations based on the law of any other country. Mercurius is not responsible for the services of any other law firms or other advisors (e.g., foreign law firm), even if such services are provided to the client through Mercurius.

Mercurius' Services do not include tax advice, and Mercurius is not responsible for matters related to taxation.

Neither party shall be liable for indirect, special or consequential damages. Each party's liability for damages to the other party is limited to 250,000 euros at maximum. Any claims for damages must be submitted in writing no later than 12 months after the termination of the relevant assignment, after which the party no longer has the right to make claims.

For the avoidance of doubt, all limitations of liability mentioned herein equally limit the liability of Mercurius' partners and employees in aggregate to the above maximum amount. A partner or employee of Mercurius shall not be personally liable for the handling of the assignment.

7. Communication and Data Security

Mercurius follows generally accepted data security practices in its operations. All materials and messages related to the assignment can be delivered to the client electronically, for example, by email. If the client so requires, the email can also be sent encrypted.

8. Force Majeure

A party shall be released from its obligations (including its liability for damages) due to circumstances that have arisen from an obstacle and/or matter beyond the control of that party.

9. Early Termination of Assignment

The client may terminate the agreed assignment at any time by written notice. Mercurius has the right to terminate the assignment in compliance with the code of conduct of Finnish Bar Association if the client's payment is delayed or if there is another valid reason.

10. Governing Law and Disputes

These terms of delivery shall be governed by Finnish law, excluding its choice of law provisions. Any disputes shall be resolved in the competent district court.

11. Language Versions

These General Terms of Delivery have been prepared in Finnish and English. If the Finnish and English versions differ in any respect, the Finnish version shall prevail.

12. Validity

These General Terms of Delivery are valid until further notice.
